CHARLOTTE COLLEGE

FOREWORD

Each year the S1 S1 staff embarks upon the mission of recording for posterity the events, the achievements, and the progress that form a small but ever-endearing part of our lives.

As the staff continues its work there is ever present in the minds of the members, the question of whether every aspect of this year at Charlotte College has been recorded for the years to come.

Delving into these events—the dances, the assemblies, the gab fests in front of the library, Heck's field trips—is an unforgettable experience. The staff has tried faithfully to make it just as unforgettable for you.

CHARLOTTE, NORTH CAROLINA

DEDICATION

TO MISS MARY REBECCA DENNY—whose ideals of scholarship have awakened our ambition, whose loyalty to our school has stimulated our fidelity, whose willingness to work in every phase of our activities has taught us the joy of service, whose friendly interest in each student has enobled our school spirit—we, the 1953 Staff of THE SI SI dedicate our yearbook.

FACULTY

All of the activities of Charlotte College revolve around Miss Cone. It is to her that students go with their problems—personal and scholastic. It is she who is in the forefront of our progressiveness. We sincerely appreciate her able guidance and her untiring efforts on our behalf.

ACTIVITIES

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, the governing body of Charlotte College, is made up of Class Officers and Organization Chairmen. Under the able leadership of Arthur Farley, the Council has undertaken many projects for the advancement of Charlotte College. The Council sponsored a float in the 1952 Christmas Carrousel, helped sponsor the coffee hours during class breaks and operated a snack bar in the Student Union Building.

Mrs. Edyth Winningham, the competent advisor, has contributed immeasurably to the efficiency and scope of the Student Council's activities during the past year.

Until 1951, Rho Gamma Alpha functioned under the name of The Regina Society. With an active membership of fourteen members, the Sorority has been a definite asset to the College. The girls have placed a Guest Register in the college office and have helped in the decorating of the Student Union Building. They have also participated in sponsoring the monthly coffee hours held during the year.

The ash trays emptied—the coffee cups lined up on the table for that 'last cup'—the floor cleared of all the miscellaneous debris, which had accumulated since the end of 8:00 class 'til the dawn's early light—and all is done until . . . returned for proof-reading.

It was hard work, but it was fun—those meetings at 8:00 in The Library Annex—those long and uneventful hours of soliciting ads and then—compensation for all the long hours of work—The Annual! (Now we can close up shop and go back to class. . .)

CATIONS

The close of school in June, 1953, will mark the 6th year of publication of The Charlotte Collegian. Begun in 1947, the paper has been published monthly under the auspices of the Student Council and has done an able job in informing the students of all events of interest.

Gene Williams edited The Charlotte Collegian through the Fall Quarter of 1952, at which time Bill Palmer was elected to complete the work through June, 1953.

Miss Mary Denny was again the very capable faculty advisor.

Seated: Bill Palmer.
Standing: Wellene Hodge, Robert Hickey,
 Martha Stogner.

Led by Captain Henry Beatty, the Charlotte College Owls, under the able leadership of Coach Bill Ellis, started their 1952-53 basketball season with a mild upset over Halls, Inc. After this, the Owls went on an 8-game losing streak, during which they lost several close decisions. The cagers then broke into the win column by a victory over the Red Shield Boys Club. The hardworking players of Coach Ellis then hit their losing ways again as they invaded the campus of Catawba College, where they were turned away with a disheartening loss to the Indians.

... The Owls maintained an ironic reputation of being a "first half" team, but the theory that a team plays best at home was again illustrated when they were completely outclassed by the Seahawks of Wilmington Junior College at Wilmington.

The eaglers held their own with the Davidson Wildkittens through the first half of their next out-of-town game but were again turned homeward with another defeat.

The Owls then dropped decisions to Halls, Inc., Faul & Crymes, and Pfeiffer Junior College ending their season as they started it, with a victory over the Red Shield Boys Club.

With the alert and well-manuevered floor play of Henry Beatty and the scoring of Glenn Keever and Beatty, the Owls were able to hold their own against the faster Junior College teams. The club was complemented by the hardfighting efforts of Jerry Martin and Ronald Patterson and the brilliant manipulation of Tom Danson and Desmond Marsh.
